

The Asia Research Initiative (ARI) and the Department of International Relations at Central European University

cordially invite you to a workshop on

Change, continuity, and challenges across the Taiwan Strait

The 2016 presidential election in Taiwan and the domestic and international implications of the Ma-Xi Summit.

Thursday 19 November 2015

Venue: Auditorium

Central European University, Budapest

Nador utca 9

4-4.10pm Opening remarks

Prof. Matteo Fumagalli

Head of Department, Department of International Relations

4.10-5.40pm

Panel 2 The Xi-Ma Summit: A preliminary assessment

Chair

Prof. Youngmi Kim (Central European University)

Panelists

Prof. Kwei-Bo Huang (Association of Foreign Relations and National Chengchi University, Taipei)

The Art of Negotiation between Taipei and Beijing

Prof. Gergely Salat (Pazmany Peter Catholic University, Budapest)

The Xi-Ma summit in the Mainland Chinese and Taiwanese press

Prof. Daniel Large (Central European University)

Crossing the Straits: Taiwan-China relations after that handshake

5.40-7pm

Panel 1 Economic integration across the Taiwan Strait

Chair: Prof. Csaba Moldicz (Budapest Business School, BGF)

Panelists

Prof. Pei-Shan Kao (Central Police University, Taoyuan)
China's Economic Integration into Asia-Its Impact to Taiwan

Prof. Akos Kopper (ELTE, Budapest)
Clashing logics of democracy and diplomacy: a consensus of ambiguity

Prof. Tamás Novák (Budapest Business School, BGF)
Implications of PRC's slowdown for Taiwan's Economic Perspectives and its International Relations

Please register for the event at taiwanworkshop@ceu.edu before Monday 16 November 4pm